A faculty member who demonstrates proficient performance has advanced in terms of degree of contribution to one's program, the Division, LCSC, one's profession and community. An excellent faculty member has made significant contributions to the college in terms of service and has made meaningful contributions to their field of study.

2. Philosophy

The quality of the College is determined to a large extent by the quality of the faculty. In our concern for the College's quality, the administration and faculty base the criteria for faculty promotion upon continued growth in professional skills and performance. The College encourages and assists each faculty member to improve professionally. Promotion is one means of encouraging professional improvement, of reflecting the continuing value of the faculty member to the college, and of rewarding meritorious service. Faculty who are awarded promotion shall be afforded all rights, rewards, privileges and responsibilities pertaining to said promotion.

3. Definition of Rank

- A. Instructor: An instructor is a faculty member who is qualified to teach college level courses and who may be eligible for promotion (Career & Technical Programs only). For academic positions, a Master's degree in the content area is normally required. Service to the institution is an expectation of instructors.
- B. Assistant Professor: An Assistant Professor is an individual who normally possesses the terminal degree or the equivalent in the field and appropriate professional expertise as determined by the division.
- C. Associate Professor: An Associate Professor is an individual who in all but exceptional circumstances possesses a terminal degree or its equivalent in the field and appropriate professional expertise as determined by the division.

SECTION: Academic

SUBJECT: FACULTY RANK AND PROMOTION

- D. Professor: A Professor is an individual who in all but very exceptional circumstances possesses a terminal degree or the equivalent in the field and who has demonstrated meritorious performance in the field as defined by the individual's division. The rank of Professor shall be awarded only to those who are proven masters of the field, are outstanding in that field, and whose general attributes are recognized by their fellows with such determination to be made by the administration and the faculty.
- E. Visiting faculty: Visiting faculty may be designated as an Instructor or appropriate academic rank (Assistant, Associate, or Professor). A Visiting faculty member is an individual who is qualified to teach college-level courses, is hired for a specified term, and is not eligible for promotion or tenure. The visiting faculty member's scope of work is determined by the Division Chair and instructional Dean.

4. Timeline for Promotion

Unless otherwise established in the candidate's initial letter of appointment, the usual time in rank required for promotion for faculty hired after August 22, 2008, is as follows:

- A. Instructor to Assistant Professor—After two (2) full years of service as Instructor, a faculty member within Career & Technical Programs may apply and be evaluated for promotion to Assistant Professor. Instructors within Academic Programs are not eligible for promotion.
- B. Assistant to Associate Professor—After four (4) full years of service as Assistant Professor, a faculty member may apply and be evaluated for promotion to Associate Professor.
- C. Associate to Full Professor—After five (5) full years of service as Associate Professor, a faculty member may apply and be evaluated for promotion to Professor.

5. Criteria for Promotion for all Faculty

- A. Criteria for promotion are consonant with the role and mission of Lewis-Clark State College. Accordingly, a teaching faculty member advancing through the ranks is expected to meet escalating standards of performance and assume additional responsibilities in teaching, advising and/or mentoring, scholarly/creative activity and professional development, and service. The Library faculty are expected to meet escalating standards of professional knowledge and skills, scholarly/creative activity and professional development, and service.
- B. Each division shall maintain a written policy that identifies appropriate standards for promotion from Instructor to Assistant Professor (does not apply to divisions within Academic Programs), Assistant Professor to Associate Professor, and Associate Professor to Professor. Division criteria for promotion must be developed by division faculty and be approved by division faculty, the division chair, the respective dean, and the provost. Changes to the criteria will follow the same approval process. Each list of criteria must include the date the faculty approved the division criteria. Copies of the criteria will be maintained in the offices of the provost, dean, and division chair. The division chair will distribute copies to all division faculty.
- C. For faculty whose duties are primarily instructional, teaching and activities that develop and improve teaching will be weighed most heavily in any evaluation. For librarians, activities that increase access to knowledge will weigh most heavily. However, it is recognized that the faculty of Lewis-Clark State College perform varied tasks, and that the relative value placed on teaching, advising and/or mentoring, professional knowledge and skills, scholarly/creative activity and professional development, and service differ among faculty. Because of this, division chairs are to negotiate with the faculty member the relative importance of each criterion to the evaluation of an individual faculty member's performance. Each criterion will be weighed relative to its value to the division and its appropriateness to the College's role and mission. This weighing shall be used in a consistent fashion by all reviewers.

SECTION: Academic

D. Faculty with a 0.5 FTE or greater appointment may be eligible to apply for promotion.
