Supplies:

Textbook: Finite Mathematics for Business, Economics, Life Sciences, and Social Sciences
11th Edition, by Barnett, Ziegler and Byleen
Calculator: A TI-92 or TI Voyage 200 graphing calculator will be provided to you.
Pencil: All homework and exams must be done in pencil

Homework:

You will be given a homework assignment each day (excluding exam days) for a total of 22 assignments. Each assignment will be worth five points and I will drop your lowest two scores.

Your assignments must be done neatly, with all the problems in the order given, written in pencil, and if there are multiple pages it must be stapled.

I will not accept any late homework assignments.

Exams:

There will be three midterm exams each worth 100 points and one final exam worth 200 points. You will be allowed one "cheat sheet" for each exam.

There will be no make-up exams given.

Grades:

| | | |

The Course:

Systems of linear equations and inequalities, elementary matrix algebra, introduction to linear programming, elementary discrete probability and statistics. Emphasis on applications to business economics and social sciences.

Cheating:

Cheating or plagiarism in any form is unacceptable. The College functions to promote the cognitive and psychosocial development of all students. Therefore, all work submitted by a student must represent his/her own ideas, concepts and current understanding. Academic Dishonesty includes:

1. Cheating - intentionally using or attempting to use unauthorized materials, information, or study aids in any academic exercise. The term "academic exercise" includes all forms of work submitted for credit hours.
2. Fabrication - intentional and/or unauthorized falsification or invention of any information or the source of any information in an academic exercise.
3. Collusion facilitating academic dishonesty - intentionally or knowingly helping or attempting to help another to commit an act of Academic Dishonesty.
4. Plagiarism - the deliberate adoption or reproduction of ideas or words or statement of another person as one's own without acknowledgment.

The sanctions imposed for a violation of this section of the Code are independent of, and in addition to, any adverse academic evaluation which results from the student's conduct. The course instructor is responsible for academic evaluation of a student's work and shall make that evaluation without regard to any disciplinary action which may or may not be taken against a student under the Student Code of Conduct.

Americans with Disabilities:

LCSC welcomes the inclusion in all phases of campus life people with disabilities. The institution adheres to section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act in making reasonable modifications of policies, practices and procedures in order to assure that no one is excluded from, or denied the benefits of, educational opportunities solely on the basis of disability. For information, contact the Office of Student Life, 792-2211.
