Deana Carter to Play Dogwood Festival Concert

IDAVEND Broadcasting presents Deana Carter at the Dogwood Festival Concert in Lewiston, Idaho as part of the Annual Dogwood Festival of the Lewis-Clark Valley.

The performance is scheduled for 8:00 p.m. in the LCSC Activity Center on Saturday, April 25, 2009. Tickets are available through Ticketswest, for purchase online and at outlets. Floor seats are $35, pre-purchased, and $40 at the door; seats in the stands are $25, pre-purchased, and $30 at the door.

Deana Carter has eight albums to her credit: "Did I Shave My Legs for this?", "Everything's Gonna Be Alright", "Father Christmas", "The Deana Carter Collection", "I'm Just a Girl", "The Story of My Life", "Live in Concert", and, most recently, "The Chain". In 1997, she received the CMA Award for Single of the Year for "Strawberry Wine" and the CMT Female Video Artist Award. Carter's Top 40 Singles include "Did I Shave My Legs for This?", "Angels Working Overtime", "You Still Shake Me", "There's No Limit", and "We Danced Anyway".
