

LCMail

LCMail is Lewis-Clark State College's student e-mail and messaging system. LCMail is hosted by Google, and uses the college's domain @lcmail.lcsc.edu

LCMail is:

- Lewis-Clark State College's official medium to reach its students through e-mail, news articles, and calendar.
- A student messaging system. Along with e-mail, LCMail offers personal and shared calendars, document sharing and live chat room, an address book to store information, and online photo albums to share photographs
- An account you can continue to use after graduating or transferring from Lewis-Clark State College.
- Accessible from any computer with Internet access.

LCMail access:

1. Open any web browser and go to <http://lcmail.lcsc.edu>
2. Click Sign In and type your login ID and password. (Remember: both are case sensitive.)
3. Click the Sign In to continue.
4. If this is the first time using LCMail, you must accept the "User Agreement" before you can access your LCMail account.

LCMail Quick FAQ's

All current LCSC students have an account setup on LCMail automatically.

Login ID is: first initial, middle initial, and full last name, ex: jdsmith Note: some login IDs may include numerical characters, so call the Help Desk if it doesn't work.

Default Password: birthdate, 2 digit month, day, and year
Example: 010180, January 01, 1980.

E-Mail Address is: first initial, middle initial, full last name @lcmail.lcsc.edu Example: jdsmith@lcmail.lcsc.edu

Contact the IT Helpdesk at (208) 792-2231, via email at helpdesk@lcsc.edu, or in person at Sam Glenn Complex room 112.