Practical ethics / Peter Singer. "For this third edition, the author has revised and updated all the chapters and added a new chapter addressing climate change, one of the most important ethical challenges of our generation. Some of the questions discussed in this book concern our daily lives. Is it ethical to buy luxuries when others do not have enough to eat? Should we buy meat from intensively reared animals? Am I doing something wrong if my carbon footprint is above the global average? "--Provided by publisher.	BJ1012 .S49 2011

Grim and Roger Finke show that restricting religious freedoms is associated with higher levels of violent persecution. Relying on a new source of coded data for nearly 200 countries and case studies of six countries, the book offers a global profile of religious freedom and religious persecution."	BL640 .G75 2011

Religious politics and secular states : Egypt, India and the United States / Scott W. Hibbard. The United States, Egypt, and India were quintessential models of secular modernity in the 1950s and 1960s. By the 1980s and 1990s, conservative Islamists challenged the Egyptian government, India witnessed a surge in Hindu nationalism, and the Christian right in the United States rose to dominate the Republican Party and large swaths of the public discourse. Using a nuanced theoretical framework that emphasizes the interaction of religion and politics, Scott W. Hibbard argues that three interrelated issues led to this state of affairs. -- Book Jacket.	BL65.P7 H53 2010

The lord of the rings [videorecording] : the motion picture trilogy, 2011 extended edition / directed by Peter Jackson ; screenplay by Fran Walsh, Philippa Boyens and Peter Jackson.  While purists complained about ... characters and scenes left out of the films, the additional hours of material in the extended editions help appease them by delving more deeply into Tolkien's music, the characters, and loose ends that enrich the story, such as an explanation of the Faramir-Denethor relationship, and the appearance of the Mouth of Sauron at the gates of Mordor.	DVD PN1997.2 L67  2011
America lost and found [videorecording] : the BBS story / Criterion Collection.  [Head] An exciting kaleidoscope of surreal vignettes set to music, this fast-paced film takes a psychedelic look at the pop phenomenon called the Monkees as they shatter their pre-fab image.  [Easy rider] Two motorcyclists travel across the U.S. in search of the real America, encountering along the way its big cities and small towns, a hippie commune, and drugs and sex in New Orleans.  [Five easy pieces] Character study of a talented pianist who has given up a promising career and now works on oil rigs. After 20 years he returns home to his father's deathbed perhaps to reconcile himself with his fear of failure and desire for greatness.  [Drive, he said] Hector is a confused basketball star at an Ohio college. He can't decide whether he wants to be a professional or spend his time rabble rousing with the radicals on campus. He is also having an affair with Olive, the wife of Richard, an older professor. Hector's best friend Gabriel is about to be drafted for Vietnam.  [A safe place] An attractive, but lonely and confused, woman seems to flit back and forth in time and between reality and fantasy under the eye of a mysterious magician.  [The last picture show] A bittersweet drama of the social and sexual mores in small-town 1950s Texas.  [The king of Marvin Gardens] Gritty story of small-time losers and big-time dreamers in Atlantic City.	DVD PN1997.A1 A55  2010

Myths and realities of Caribbean history / Basil A. Reid. From the Publisher: This book seeks to debunk eleven popular and prevalent myths about Caribbean history.... Contrary to popular belief, the history of the Caribbean did not begin with the arrival of Europeans in 1492. It actually started 7,000 years ago with the infusion of Archaic groups from South America and the successive migrations of other peoples from Central America for about 2,000 years thereafter. In addition to discussing this rich cultural diversity of the Antillean past, Myths and Realities of Caribbean History debates the misuse of terms such as "Arawak" and "Ciboneys," and the validity of Carib cannibalism allegations.	F2176 .R43 2009

The world for ransom : piracy is terrorism, terrorism is piracy / D.R. Burgess. The author presents a revolutionary proposal: give international terrorists their proper legal recognition as enemies of the human race. In a word, pirates. Despite what images on the big screen lead us to believe, pirates are not the swashbuckling, rum-swilling, peg-legged bad boys of old; in fact, they never were. Compiling historical data and juxtaposing it with current events the author contends that pirates were the first international terrorists.-- From book jacket.	G535 .B86 2010

Who gets a childhood? : race and juvenile justice in twentieth-century Texas / William S. Bush. Using Texas as a case study for understanding change in the American juvenile justice system over the past century, the author tells the story of three cycles of scandal, reform, and retrenchment, each of which played out in ways that tended to extend the privileges of a protected childhood to white middle- and upper-class youth, while denying those protections to blacks, Latinos, and poor whites. On the forefront of both progressive and "get tough" reform campaigns, Texas has led national policy shifts in the treatment of delinquent youth to a surprising degree.	HV9105.T4 B87 2010
The illusion of free markets : punishment and the myth of natural order / Bernard E. Harcourt. This work argues that our faith in "free markets" has severely distorted American politics and punishment practices.... Superimposing the political categories of "freedom" or "discipline" on forms of market organization has the unfortunate effect of obscuring rather than enlightening. It obscures by making both the free market and the prison system seem natural and necessary. In the process, it facilitated the birth of the penitentiary system in the nineteenth century and its ultimate culmination into mass incarceration today.	HV9950 .H393 2011

Gay, straight, and the reason why [electronic resource] : the science of sexual orientation / Simon LeVay. "In this book, neuroscientist Simon LeVay summarizes a wealth of scientific evidence that points to one inescapable conclusion: Sexual orientation results primarily from an interaction between genes, sex hormones, and the cells of the developing body and brain.... A person's sexual orientation arises in large part from biological processes that are already underway before birth. LeVay also makes it clear that these lines of research have a lot of potential because--far from seeking to discover 'what went wrong' in the lives of gay people, attempting to develop 'cures' for homosexuality, or returning to traditional explanations that center on parent-child relationships, various forms of 'training,' or early sexual experiences--our modern scientists are increasingly seeing sexual variety as something to be valued, celebrated, and welcomed into society"--Provided by publisher.	Internet BF692 .L476 2011eb

Miler. "Legislators are shown to see only a few constituents in their district on a given policy, namely those who donate to their campaigns and contact the legislative office, and fail to see many other relevant constituents. Legislators are also subsequently more likely to act on behalf of the constituents they see, while important constituents not seen by legislators are rarely represented in the policymaking process...."--Provided by publisher.	JK1131 .M55 2010

Theories of international politics and zombies / Daniel W. Drezner. Drezner looks at how well-known theories from international relations might be applied to a war with zombies. Exploring the plots of popular zombie films, songs, and books, Theories of international politics and zombies predicts realistic scenarios for the political stage in the face of a zombie threat and considers how valid- or how rotten- such scenarios might be.	JZ1305 .D74 2011

The beauty bias : the injustice of appearance in life and law / Deborah L. Rhode. "Unattractive individuals are less likely to be hired and promoted, and are assumed less likely to have desirable traits, such as goodness, kindness, and honesty.... Many individuals experience stigma, discrimination, and related difficulties, such as eating disorders, depression, and risky dieting and cosmetic procedures. Women bear a vastly disproportionate share of these costs, in part because they face standards more exacting than those for men, and pay greater penalties for falling short. This book also explores the social, biological, market, and media forces that have contributed to appearance related problems, as well as feminism's difficulties in confronting them.	KF478 .R48 2010

Gender equality and development / the World Bank. The World Development Report 2012: Gender Equality and Development argues that gender equality is a core development objective in its own right. It is also smart economics. Greater gender equality can enhance productivity, improve development outcomes for the next generation, and make institutions more representative. The Report also focuses on four priority areas for policy going forward: (i) reducing excess female mortality and closing education gaps where they remain, (ii) improving access to economic opportunities for women (iii) increasing women's voice and agency in the household and in society and (iv) limiting the reproduction of gender inequality across generations.
