Connect learning to your life in the LCSC Division of Education!

It seems hard to believe that it is already November! The semester sure has been a busy one! I hope that this newsletter finds that your classes are going well and that you are enjoying your continued experience in the Education Division. Registration for the Spring Semester is right around the corner. If you haven’t already, please schedule time to meet with your advisor to discuss your spring course plans. Good luck with the remainder of fall semester!

Faculty Spotlight

Bill Hayne has been with the Division of Education at Lewis-Clark State College since 1994. A valued member of the faculty, Bill teaches in the Teacher Education Program. In addition, he serves as the Field Experience Director working to coordinate and facilitate student field experience placements. Committed to ensuring Education students receive a quality LC experience, Bill is known for his energetic and engaging demeanor and for his continued commitment to social justice issues. A former LC student-athlete, Mr. Hayne is a Warrior for Life!
Diversity Workshop

“No written word, no spoken plea, can teach our youth what they should be, nor all the books on all the shelves, it’s what the teachers are themselves.” – John Wooden

Changing Perspectives, Changing Lives

In October, Teacher Education students participated in a workshop facilitated by Bill Hayne, the Director of Field Experience in the Education Division. Through interactions with presenters, Dr. Johnny Lake (Northwest Christian University) and Ms. Kendra Hughes (Equity Center), respectively, our students had a unique opportunity to safely and boldly explore issues of human dignity, educational equity, and diversity.

“Becoming culturally responsive educators means we are willing to create classrooms in which students feel safe, valued, empowered and learn from us that human dignity and social justice are the very heartbeat of our society…”

Bill Hayne, Director of Field Experience

Health & Kinesiology

Kelsey Schultheis (Colton, WA), a 2011 graduate of the Sports Administration Degree Program, is now the Assistant Equipment Operations Manager for Women’s Basketball, Volleyball, Rowing, and Swimming & Diving at Duke University in Durham, NC.

Dr. Marika Botha, a Professor in the Health and Kinesiology Program, was recognized as the 2012 AAHPERD Northwest District College and University Professional of the Year at the NW District Conference this summer in Bozeman, MT.
