

LEWIS-CLARK STATE COLLEGE

SD 107/307 NEW STUDENT ORIENTATION SYLLABUS

Fall 2009

Instructors: Faculty and staff at Lewis-Clark State College

Credits: 1 credit

Required Materials: SD 107/307 Study Plan (provided in orientation packet or at the Office of New Student Recruitment, RCH 114)

Other materials will be supplied during the orientation program.

Course Description/Purpose: “New Student Orientation” is intended to provide students with information needed to be successful at Lewis-Clark State College. Students will have an opportunity to meet other students, faculty, and staff. These interactions will help students get a sense of the campus culture, and more importantly, teach them how to conduct business with the college. Students will learn about the Student Code of Conduct, academic advising rights and responsibilities, and other policies related to their enrollment at LCSC. In addition, they will meet with faculty/advisors within their programs of study and have the option of taking a campus tour.

Grades: New Student Orientation is graded on a pass/no-credit basis. Students will earn a grade of “pass” for:

- 1) Attending the entire orientation program and participating in all related activities.
- 2) Meeting with their respective academic advisors to complete the SD 107/307 Study Plan and return that plan to the Office of New Student Recruitment (RCH 114) no later than one week after orientation - Friday, September 4, 2009. Grades may be checked via WarriorWeb.
- 3) Completing the on-line, Blackboard ©-based Plagiarism module and submit a printout of the completed final quiz.
- 4) Printing off their Fall 2009 schedule from WarriorWeb and submit a copy of it with their study plan.

Reasonable Accommodation: If accommodations are needed because of a disability; if you need to make instructors or orientation assistants aware of emergency medical information; or if you will need special arrangements in case of a building evacuation, please let a campus official know immediately. Contact the Disability Services Office in Reid Centennial Hall, Room 111 or phone 208-792-2211.
