Value Rubric: Integrative Seminar in Ethics and Values

Students will demonstrate their achievement of the following learning outcomes through the assignments and activities they complete for the course. The rubric is not intended as a grading rubric.

	Exceeds End-of-Course	Meets End-of-Course	Entry-level Expectation
Fundamental Criteria	Expectations	Expectations	Student has entry-level awareness
	Student has achieved the outcome	Student has achieved the outcome	of content and methods.
	and critically applies it to the	and consistently applies it.	of content and methous.
	general education experience and	and consistently applies it.
	other learning.
By the end of the course, the	A student	A student	A student student will be able to	A student	A student	A student
1. Read and evaluate	Has advanced reading	Effectively reads and evaluates	Has fundamental reading and comprehension skills and	texts, artifacts, evidence, and/or	evaluative skills developed concepts and perspectives from multiple disciplines	insightfully evaluates texts,	information in order to understand	through general education core related to ethics and artifacts, evidence, and/or	and apply concepts and	classes.
values.	information in order to understand	perspectives related to ethics and
	and apply concepts and	values.
	perspectives related to ethics and values across a broad range of topics, scenarios, and learning experiences.
2. Use writing, discussion,	Consistently engages in original	Effectively uses writing,	Has fundamental skills and research, and	and thorough writing and research,	discussion, research, and	experience in writing, discussion, collaboration to analyze	thoughtful discussion, and	collaborative skills to analyze and	research, and collaboration, and understand how	inclusive collaboration to analyze	demonstrate comprehension of	developed through general individuals and societies	and demonstrate in-depth	how ethics and values shape	education core classes.
are shaped by ethics and	comprehension of how ethics and	individuals and societies.
values.	values shape individuals and societies.
3. Demonstrate self-	Readily engages in self-reflection.	Effectively demonstrates self-	Has the ability to learn to reflection, broadened	Through active exploration	reflection, broadened perspective,	demonstrate self-reflection and perspective, and respect	demonstrates significant	and respect for diverse viewpoints	respect for diverse viewpoints.
for diverse viewpoints by	appreciation, understanding, and	by exploring issues related to exploring issues related to	respect for a variety of viewpoints	ethics and values. Shows ethics and values.	related to ethics and values.	awareness that ethics and values have an effect on their daily lives.
4. Integrate and apply	Readily engages in critical	Effectively demonstrates	Has ability to learn to integrate accumulated knowledge	thinking and problem-solving to	integration and application of	and apply knowledge to new to develop strategies that	address complex ethics and values	accumulated knowledge to	contexts.
address issues of ethics	issues. Identifies new contexts for	develop strategies that address and values.	application and integration of	issues of ethics and values.
	accumulated knowledge relevant to issues of ethics and values.
	to issues of curres and varaes.		