Grading Schemes in Canvas

Newsflash! The default Canvas grading scheme is not an official LC State scale. You can change the grading scheme in your courses to reflect the grading criteria in your syllabi at your discretion. Check out this Instructor Guide that has a short video and text-based instructions for customizing your grading scheme.

More ID Fun Facts

Ever wonder who's behind the scenes helping your course shine? We're excited to share a little more about ourselves with you!

Angela: I have a collection of over 450 miniatures for playing Dungeons & Dragons. My current campaign, Curse of Strahd, is entering its fifth-year running! If you're interested in delving into dungeon mastering, stop by and chat me up! Not a pro, just a nerd.

Carrie: If you see me outside of work, it is likely I'll have my dog, Cody, with me. I'm one of those "crazy dog people," and he's my best-est buddy. He loves car rides, visiting Home Depot, hiking at Hell's Gate, and he usually makes an appearance in-costume on campus at Halloween.

Elisabeth: I collect houseplants & weird cacti. My favorite genus of houseplants is Hoyas; at one time I had over 60 species. I love indoor plants that continually bloom and have cool evolutionary traits or mutations.

Accessibility 101

Check your content using the built-in tools found in the programs you're already using.

- Microsoft's Accessibility Checker \(Word, PowerPoint, Excel, & OneNote\).
- Panopto Video Captioning and Transcripts
- Canvas
 - eLearning – Access for All course (please email us if you need to be added to this course)
 - Rich Text Editor has a built-in Accessibility Checker; click the  button and follow the instructions to correct any issues.
 - Navigate to "Help" and select Training Services Portal and "Authorize." You will see a Building Block Basics heading with an on-demand course, "Fundamentals of Accessible Digital Content in Canvas." (55 min)
