WELCOME FROM THE PRESIDENT

Class of 2025,

On behalf of the faculty and staff of Lewis-Clark State College, we proudly celebrate your accomplishments today with your family and friends.

Graduating from college is a momentous occasion – an end to one chapter and the beginning of another. Be proud of all you've achieved and savor this moment.

Your diploma represents not just success, but a foundation for the future. Through experiences like internships, apprenticeships, practica, clinicals, community engagement, athletics, and student leadership, you're prepared for the challenges ahead.

As you move forward, remember where you started and those who supported you along the way. Celebrate your achievement, and like those who encouraged you, inspire others to persevere and succeed. Use your voice, give back, and continue learning.

It's been our honor to support your journey. We wish you a future full of success and adventure.

Congratulations, and may your path be bright.

Sincerely,

Cynthia Pemberton, Ed.D., President
Lewis-Clark State College

FOUNDATION BOARD PRESIDENT

Dear Graduates,

Congratulations! You have worked hard and have completed your degree. Graduation is a very exciting and busy time as you move forward to the next chapter in your life. Seize this opportunity and accept the rewards of your efforts.

As you move forward in your life, always remember this: the probability of increasing the compensation you earn is equal to your expertise along with the quality of your work, the need for your work and the difficulty of replacing you. Sometimes that ideal new job or opportunity doesn't work out quite as planned. That is when the roots and foundation of your education will become invaluable. When life throws you a curve, you will need to change directions. Be flexible and open to change. LC State strongly emphasizes lifetime learning. Do not be timid about taking an additional course or two to gain the skills to advance in your career. Do not fear returning to school to completely change the direction of your career. A college education always benefits a person especially when they are willing to expand their knowledge after graduating.

We are very excited for you as you move forward in your life. However, we are also very sad to see you go. We hope you will fondly remember your time at LC State and will keep in touch with your professors and classmates. We would love to hear about your successes in life.

Sincerely,

Robert J. Clifford, President
Lewis-Clark State College Foundation

ASSOCIATED STUDENTS OF LC STATE

Dear Graduates,

On behalf of the ASLCSC Student Government, I would like to extend our congratulations to you all. This year's council is appreciative of your dedication to LC State and participation in the LC State community. Thank you for helping us create a welcoming culture of kindness for students.

We are proud of you for the perseverance you have shown to make it to this point. You have spent countless hours studying, doing homework, and looking forward to achieving your goals. Today, you will get to walk across the stage knowing that you made it! Continue to face any challenges that may arise with the same passion and drive.

Although I do not have all the answers for post-graduation life, I do have some advice I can share with you that has helped me: each day is a new day. While this seems self-explanatory, it is good for us to remember that we can choose to be better each day. Begin each day with a positive outlook and strive to be the best version of yourself.

When you are having a bad day or you are facing a challenge that seems unbeatable, remember that each day is a new opportunity to overcome. Each day that goes by, you get closer to reaching your goals. You have come this far, remember that. You can persevere and conquer. Use your previous achievements as a reminder that you CAN and look to your goals to motivate you. Begin every day believing in yourself and facing the future.

Graduates, you are all strong and capable of achieving the life you desire.

Thank you for choosing to be a part of LC State, and congratulations!

Rayne Martinez
ASLCSC President 2025

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION PRESIDENT

2025 LC State Graduates,

Congratulations. It is an honor to recognize and celebrate this year's LC State graduates.

Whether you started at LC State while still in high school with dual credits, joined us after you graduated or earned a GED, transferred from another college or returned to school later in life, you did it. You earned a degree from Lewis-Clark State College.

You embarked on a journey, remained committed to a college education and put forth the work required to achieve your degree. Pause to take it all in and enjoy this moment. Look around at your fellow graduates and bask in it. You deserve it!

I have no doubt that each of you faced challenges, some more difficult challenges than others. I also have no doubt, that you experienced sweet victories, too. Like me, and all other LC State students before you, you were supported and guided by incredible faculty and staff, a stellar Warrior family and a generous and supportive LC Valley community. And today, full of knowledge and possibility, you start a new chapter well prepared for the future.

I am thrilled to offer a Warrior-worthy congratulations and join in the commencement and celebration of your hard-earned achievement. I invite you to stay in touch with the LC State Alumni Association. LC State will forever be a part of your journey, but it is our hope that you will continue to connect with your alma mater, the students graduating with you today and other alumni.

We are all connected by this common achievement and your LC State Alumni Association is in your corner, cheering you on and rooting for your continued success.

Congratulations again to LC State's newest alumni, you and the class of 2025. Warriors for life!

Respectfully,

Samantha M. Skinner

FACULTY ASSOCIATION

Dear Graduates,

On behalf of the Lewis-Clark State College Faculty, I congratulate you on your accomplishments. You have fulfilled your degree requirements, gained hands-on experience in your field of study, conducted original research, and attained mastery of your academic discipline. Many of you have done this while working full-time jobs, competing in collegiate athletics, and managing family obligations. It is an honor to write this letter in celebration of all of you.

As an English professor, I always turn to literature for wisdom, so I offer a brief literary anecdote from the life of the celebrated English poet John Milton. Midway through his life and career, Milton began to lose his sight, and by the time he died at the age of 65 he was completely blind. Reflecting on this profound loss, Milton composed the memorable lines, “When I consider how my light is spent, / Ere half my days, in this dark world and wide, / And that one Talent which is death to hide / Lodged with me useless...” The “light” of which Milton speaks is both literal and figurative, referring to the physical light that his eyes will no longer perceive and to the inner light that animates his spiritual and creative life. At this point in his career, Milton had been toiling away for years as a government bureaucrat and neglecting the grand literary ambitions that he had harbored since early adulthood. Milton blamed his loss of vision on the excessive reading that his job demanded of him, though it was likely caused by some physical ailment like glaucoma. For Milton neglecting his literary talent was tantamount to death. What Milton wanted was not simply a job but a vocation, a calling that would endow his life with purpose and meaning. He would go on to write the epic poem “Paradise Lost,” one of the greatest works of English literature, while completely blind, composing the lines in his head and dictating them to his secretaries and daughters.

As you embark on your careers, continue to nurture your talents (as you have done at LC State) and maintain your intellectual curiosity and openness to the world. Like Milton, you should seek to find your vocation, a career that sustains your inner light as well as your finances.

Finally, I urge you to keep in touch with the LC State community. We professors love to hear about your accomplishments, and we are happy to help in any way we can as you embark upon your careers.

Sincerely,

Dr. Peter Remien
Faculty Association Chair

THE PRESIDENT'S MEDALLION

The President's Medallion is awarded to individuals who have significantly impacted Lewis-Clark State College by demonstrating high personal standards, commitment to lifelong learning, and personal growth. Their efforts have contributed to the quality of instruction, life on campus, and in the community. They have offered leadership, personal energy, or resources to enhance the educational experience and environment at the institution and the community. Their contributions, in various forms, benefit the institution and those who work and learn here.

The 2025 recipient of the President's Medallion is Chris Loseth.

From the P1FCU Activity Center – where we sit today – to the state-of-the-art P1FCU Video Board at Harris Field and so much more, the support P1FCU provides Lewis-Clark State College cannot be missed. What might be overlooked, however, is just how profound P1FCU's impact on the college, community, and region has been, and the person behind it all – 2025 President's Medallion recipient Chris Loseth, president and CEO of P1FCU.

Loseth joined P1FCU in 1989 and has been a driving force behind the credit union's growth, member-focused initiatives, and community engagement. Under Loseth's leadership, grounded in putting people first, P1FCU has grown from 9,815 members in 1989 to over 127,253 members at the end of 2024.

With this success, Loseth places a strong emphasis on giving back to the community. Beyond the numerous partnerships with LC State, P1FCU has supported many important regional projects including the P1FCU Kibbie Dome at the University of Idaho, the P1FCU Inpatient Wing at TriState Health, the P1FCU Arena at the Walla Walla Fairgrounds, the P1FCU Sports Complex and P1FCU Performing Arts Center at Lewiston High School, and P1FCU Pavilion at the Boys and Girls Club.

Additionally, under Loseth's leadership, P1FCU supports local communities through programs like Cash for Classrooms, Neighbors Feeding Neighbors, Season of Giving, and Champions for Change, and over 20 different community food banks. In 2024, P1FCU donated over $1.25 million to 502 different community organizations and staff members volunteered 3,500 hours for 421 organizations to include over 1,000 community outreach events across Idaho, Washington, and Oregon. P1FCU has received the Outstanding Idaho Philanthropic Company Award from the Idaho Nonprofit Center.

In his personal time, Loseth has volunteered as the Campaign Chair for the Asotin County Library, Honorary Campaign Chair for the Twin County United Way, founding member of the ROC Rescue Mission, served 19 years on the Asotin School Board, served on both the Lewis-Clark State College Foundation and Career Advisory Board, and the Walla Walla Community College Entrepreneurship Advisory Board and the Carpentry Board. He has also served on many various state and national boards and committees in his credit union advocacy role.

In recognition of his philanthropy, Loseth has received countless honors including the Don Poe Community Spirit Award from the Boys and Girls Club of the Lewis Clark Valley, and the Aletha Pabst Circle of Excellence Award by the Alumni Association Board of Directors of Lewis-Clark State College for a non-alumnus. His ongoing commitment to community also resulted in him being named "Credit Union Professional of the Year" by the Idaho Credit Union League.

"I am greatly honored to be recognized for the 2025 President's Medallion Award from Dr. Pemberton," Loseth said. "Chartered in 1938, P1FCU has been woven into the fabric of the Lewis-Clark Valley for 87 years along with Lewis-Clark State College which has been woven into the fabric of the Lewis-Clark Valley for 132 years, since 1893. We have supported Lewis-Clark State College and its students and faculty for many years in many ways and it has been a great experience. It is our honor to continue our long-term partnership with LC State through the P1FCU Athletics Endowment Fund that will support students' educational opportunities for years to come, and to support the P1FCU Activity Center that is an integral part of Lewiston, serving the residents of the Lewis-Clark Valley in numerous local events held in the facility year after year. We are also a major sponsor of the NAIA National Baseball Championship. Our commitment to the Lewis-Clark Valley and the community areas we serve in Idaho, Washington and Oregon and its residents has never been stronger and we will continue to move forward into the future together as we have for the past 87 years."

Loseth attended Texas A&M University, earning his Bachelor of Science in Business Administration and Accounting before starting his career in credit union advocacy.

Loseth says his life goal is to "To Give Back More To The World Than I Take From It." May this President's Medallion from LC State shine as one more resounding indicator that he is accomplishing his goal. Thank you and congratulations, Mr. Loseth!

MH – Military/veterans honors

PH – Presidential honors for associate degree graduates are based on a minimum of 16 graded LC State credits with a minimum cumulative LC State GPA of 3.75.

PO – Posthumous Degree

The appearance of a name in the program is presumptive evidence of graduation and honors; it must not, in any sense, be regarded as conclusive. The academic transcript, signed and sealed by the college Registrar, remains the official testimony of the possession of the degree/certificate.

OFFICIAL SEAL AND MACE OF LC STATE

The seal symbolizes the mission and noble ideals of LC State. The college was founded in 1893 as Lewiston State Normal School, with the date depicted at the bottom of the seal.

The scalloped border encompassing the seal reflects the college's location at the confluence of the Snake and Clearwater Rivers – the path taken by Meriwether Lewis and William Clark. Within the scalloped border is a circle that represents fidelity and faith, and reflects LC State's continual and unbreakable commitment to the community it serves.

The oak leaves and acorns emblazoned on the seal's outer ring are symbols of authority and service dating back to Roman times. Their inclusion underscores LC State's enduring service to both the state of Idaho and the nation. The shield (escutcheon) at the center symbolizes the strength and the historic tradition of the college as a crossroads for America. The shield itself is divided into two fields symbolizing unity of the college's educational and service missions.

The dark (sable) color represents constancy, the white (argent) field symbolizes peace, and the emblems on the field shield depict LC State's proud tradition of excellence in letters, arts and sciences (the open book), and in industry and technology (the enmeshed gears). Above the shield is a lamp that symbolizes light, life and spirituality. The lamp also reflects the college's commitment to developing the whole person and its century-plus tradition of illuminating the lives of Idaho citizens.

The college's mace is the traditional symbol of legal and chartered authority of the people to whom the Board of Trustees has delegated authority. When the mace is present, the authority of the college is present. When the mace leaves, the authority leaves as well. For this reason, the mace enters the ceremony before the governing body.

LC State is very appreciative of artist Jim Christiansen, who crafted the mace of black walnut from a tree that existed on campus. Jim has designed the mace headpiece with carvings of the college seal and logo.

Standardized academic costumes were adopted for commencement ceremonies during the late 1800s to distinguish graduates according to discipline and degree. The custom grew so rapidly that a commission was formed to study and make recommendations for a uniform code for academic regalia. In 1896, a standard code was adopted that is still followed today. The costumes, colors, trimmings, and patterns are all traditional and reflect both the degree and field of learning.

The bachelor's gown is made of black material with long, pointed sleeves. The master's gown has oblong sleeves that open at the wrists. The doctoral gown is usually black, faced with velvet and with three velvet bars on full, round, open sleeves. The velvet trim may be black or match the hood edging, which varies by departments of learning. Some collegiate institutions have authorized doctoral gowns in school colors, rather than black.

The colorful hood is reserved for those individuals who have attained academic degrees beyond the bachelor's degree. The Intercollegiate Commission assigned and standardized colors to academic disciplines to distinguish them from their colleagues in other fields of learning and to indicate the college or university from which the wearer earned the degree. The size of the hood also indicates degree earned with the doctoral hood being the longest.

The square cap is commonly called a mortarboard and is black. Some doctors wear a soft tam or large beret. Tassels that fasten to the cap are black. Doctors, the institution's governing officials and honored guests wear gold tassels. Gold tassels also are worn by graduates who are members of the LC State Ambassadors Honor Society.

LC State associate degree or certificate candidates wear a solid black robe. Bachelor's degree candidates wear a solid black robe with a white institutional stole. Graduate certificate candidates wear a solid black robe with a blue institutional stole. Graduate degree candidates wear a solid black master's robe with master's hood appropriately colored for the degree and discipline.

Colored cords are worn for scholastic distinction. Baccalaureate graduates earning Latin honors wear the following colored honor cords: cum laude-silver; magna cum laude-gold; summa cum laude-silver and gold. Associate degree graduates earning President's Honors wear blue and white cords.
